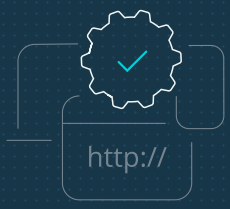
SMARTBEAR TestExecute

The fastest and easiest way to run multiple automated tests simultaneously

A quick, easy and cost-effective execution engine to scale your UI automated tests

Enable Continuous Integration for DevOps

Setup parallel test suites and integrate automated tests with your DevOps ecosystems. e.g. Jenkins, Git, Subversion



Run Tests Concurrently Across Environments

Save time by executing multiple automated desktop, mobile, and web tests across distributed environments, devices, and wide range of technologies.

Reduce Costs with a Stand-Alone Engine

Save money and get better return on your investment by executing or distributing tests across different systems separate from your test automation tool.

Run TestExecute from your system tray or through command-line. You can run the entire project suite or an individual project, view or export results, and post defects to defect management systems all within our lightweight execution engine.
